Re: Weller Tools GmbH compliance with the Dodd-Frank Act regarding Conflict Minerals.
Compliance with CMRT 6.xx and EMRT 1.x.

Dear customer,

This letter is in response to your request for additional information regarding Weller business approach to ensure compliance with section 1502 of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act ("Dodd-Frank Act") concerning the use of Conflict Minerals in manufactured parts and/or products.

As such Weller Tools GmbH is currently conducting risk assessments of all our global suppliers and materials, requiring Certifications of Compliance to meet several product compliance initiatives. Additionally, Weller suppliers are required to conduct due diligence of their downstream supply chain and certify to the absence of Conflict Minerals in parts supplied to Weller.

Weller is using several resources within our supply chain, engineering, and product compliance departments to ensure these requests and risk assessment are expedited.

We started implementing a management system to track the source of possible use 'conflict minerals' beginning 2013 to assure compliance with this regulation.
Changings in this Act get permanent controlled and updated.

At this time, we do not have any reason to believe that our products use any metals from a conflict material source.

Sincerely,
Weller Tools GmbH
